

There is an IP Office to meet the needs of any small and midsize business. From the smallest enterprise with essential telephony requirements, scaling up to sophisticated large enterprises requiring advanced features, and all businesses in between.

IP Office solutions are custom tailored to each business and their needs, with full featured digital desk phones (premise only) and IP desk phones (premise or cloud). The IX Workplace mobile app allows workers to be flexible in how they make and receive business calls.

The IP Office 500v2 premise-based system can support digital and IP desk phones offering the flexibility to utilize existing infrastructure. This system can be scaled from very basic to very complex based on business needs.

The IP Office Cloud Subscription offers the same reliability of Avaya IP Office in a cloud-based phone system with IP desk phones, offering a variety of flexible deployment options. Subscription based systems are a monthly service model and are designed for businesses with 10 or more users.

User Solution Application for Every Worker

Choices Based On Job Function
Power User	Officer Worker	Basic User	Receptionist
IP Office User Solutions

All user solutions, except for Receptionist, require Preferred Edition software or higher.